

BSA CLIMBING INSTRUCTOR TRAINING

Become a BSA Climbing Instructor

Presented by Cascade Pacific Council Climbing Committee

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA®
CASCADE PACIFIC COUNCIL

Do You Enjoy Rock Climbing? Would You Like to Take Your Unit Climbing?

If so, this climbing instructor training course is for you!

Participants will enjoy two weekends of classroom and hands-on training, including instruction in Climbing Technique, Safety Considerations, Gear Selection and Care, Group Instruction and Route Selection and Set-Up. These topics will be presented by experienced members of the council climbing committee.

The first weekend will focus on classroom sessions in Oregon City. The second weekend will be hands-on skills at Horsethief Butte.

Persons age 16 and 17 are able to attend with a paying adult, but only those 18 and up are eligible to receive a training card as a BSA Climbing Instructor. Upon successful completion of this course, individuals satisfactorily demonstrating their instructional, management and anchoring skills will receive a training card as a "BSA Climbing Instructor". A training card will be granted at the successful completion of the course, and with the approval of training staff.

Course prerequisites: MUST have prior climbing experience; this is not a beginner class. Must also be current in Youth protection Training that is appropriate for your BSA membership; Climb-On Safely training and a current BSA medical form signed by your physician (available at www.cpcbsa.org/medical). BRING COPIES OF THESE TO THE FIRST SESSION, PLEASE.

Registration is first-come first-served and class size is limited, so register early to claim your spot!

A climbing helmet, harness and 24 foot piece of 1 inch tubular webbing are required both weekends. If you have your own equipment, you may bring it to class (all personal equipment will be subject to inspection by the staff to ensure that it meets BSA standards.)
